Let's connect at the Notre Dame Open House

Excited for the first week of school? We are too! FedEx Office is kicking off the semester at Notre Dame's Open House on August 29th from 10:00 AM – 3:00 PM, and we'd love to see you there.

We'll be set up on the main floor of LaFortune Student Center, ready to show you how FedEx Office can support faculty, staff, and students. We're especially excited to introduce new and returning students to our student discounts and Print OnDemand site.

Here are just a few things you can get with FedEx Office this school year:

- •Posters, signs, and banners
- •Flyers, brochures, presentations, and manuals
- •Event signage and materials
- •Kitting, fulfillment, and distribution
- •Custom boxes with personalized promo items
- •Promotional graphics for windows, walls, and floors
- •Sensitive data handling
- •Installation services

Stop by our table to chat with our team and learn more about on-campus printing solutions for your department. We love connecting with our Notre Dame family.

If you're unable to attend or stop by our table, you can always reach out to me directly or find more information on the University of Notre Dame's FedEx Office account page.
